PRESENTER PROFILES

Frederique Keller, DOM, L.Ac, the current President of the AAS, Frederique holds a Master of Science in Oriental Medicine and is a Licensed Acupuncturist, as well as a Medical Herbalist in Long Island, NY, where she has also been a beekeeper for 20 years. She utilizes bee venom therapy for a variety of disorders and incorporates the products of the hive in her treatment protocols. She has traveled extensively and has done post graduate studies in China and India in the fields of Traditional Chinese Medicine and Classical Homeopathy.

Theo Cherbuliez, MD, a practicing psychiatrist and the AAS Vice-President, has kept bees for 40 years in NY and Maine where he now lives. As an active apitherapist for twenty years, he was President of AAS, and is now the President of the Apitherapy Commission of Apimondia. He travels and lectures extensively, interacting with apitherapists worldwide.

Allen Dennison, MD, graduated from Harvard University in Biology and Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1980. His wife, Jane Dennison M.D, a pediatrician and beekeeper, has encouraged his efforts to use raw local and Manuka honey to close wounds in the nursing home where he works. He is currently working with the Depts. of Microbiology, Pharmacy and Wound Care (Division of Nursing) at Brown University's R. I. Hospital, to re-establish honey as a preferred dressing component for all surgical wounds, with special attention to antibiotic-resistant bacteria. He is an active clinical teacher at Brown University and Boston University Medical Schools. He has vowed not to rest until the National Board of Internal Medicine includes an exam question on wound healing.... to which you already know the answer.
