

“Apiary Management Chat with the Sate Apiarist" with Jen Lund

In Jen’s last “chat” of 2023 she’ll share what she’s observed on her inspections around Maine, what you should be keeping an eye on in your own apiary, and your next management steps. An open Q&A will follow with Jen and other experienced beekeepers to answer any questions on any topic.

“Comb Honey" with Anne Frey, Betterbee's Head Beekeeper

If you want to make comb honey, it can be done without major colony disruption, and also without expensive special equipment. We'll go over the simplest ways to produce small batches, as well as the Ross Rounds and Hogg Halfcomb systems, and cover how to gauge the nectar flow and your colony strength for best comb honey results.
